SOCIAL and PERSONAL

The important society event yesterday was the reception for Mrs. Arthur Glasgow, of London, and Mrs. John Kerr Branch, at which Mrs. William D. Thomas, of 1121 West Franklin Street, was hostess. The lovely rooms of the Thomas home were thronged with handsomely gowned women during calling hours, and Mrs. Thomas received with the guests of honor in the drawing-room. Quantites of pink azaleas banked the mantels, and were arranged around the room in wicker stands, and the dining-room was decorated in Killarney roses. A silver bowl of the flowers formed an effective centrepiece for the tea table and a hanging basket of pink buds was suspended from the chandelier. Richmond hanging basket of pink buds was suspended from the chandeller. Richmondroses were used in the library and hall, and an orchestra played during the receiving hours. Assisting Mrs. Thomas in doing the honors of the afternoon were: Mrs. E. Randolph Williams, Miss Mary Williams, Mrs. Mary De Witt Adams and Mrs. Henry C. Riely.

Mrs. Randolph Wellford and Mrs. Frank Palmer Christian were at the punch table, and Mrs. A. Sidney Buford, Jr., and Mrs. C. Barksdale Lathrop Jr., and Mrs. C. Barksdale Lathrop poured tea. It was a lovely affair in every detail.
